This box is to be complete if you have checked item "B" on the previous page.

Under section 910.2 of the Pennsylvania Municipalities Code and the Oakmont Borough Zoning Ordinance, no variance shall be granted until the applicant has established and the Zoning Hearing Board has made all of the following findings (A through E) where relevant in a given case:

() A. Unnecessary hardship due to unique physical circumstances.

That there are unique physical circumstances or shallowness of lot size or shape or exceptional topographical or other physical conditions peculiar to the particular property and that the unnecessary hardship is due to such conditions and not the circumstances or conditions generally created by the provision of the Zoning Ordinance in the neighborhood or district in which the property is located.

() B. Unique physical circumstances hinder property development.

That because of such physical circumstances or conditions, there is no possibility that the property can be developed in strict conformance with the provisions of the Zoning Ordinance and that the authorization of a variance is therefore necessary to enable the reasonable use of the property.

() C. Unnecessary hardship not created by Appellant.

That the unnecessary hardship has not been created by the appellant.

() D. Character of the neighborhood will not change.

That the variance, if authorized, will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood of the district in which the property is located, nor substantially or permanently impair the appropriate use of development of adjacent property, nor be detrimental to the public welfare.

() E. Appeal represents the least modification possible.

That the variance, if authorized, will represent the minimum variance that will afford relief and will represent the least modification possible of the regulation in issue.
